FIVE ARRESTED FOR THROWING ROCKS IN CITY

Men Are Booked at Local Headquarters Following Stoning Spree

Five employees of the Municipal Railway were arrested in a Daly City tavern after an alleged rock throwing episode in San Francisco, Friday evening of last week. They are at large on bail, facing charges of malicious mischief. The preliminary hearing is set for tomorrow.

The men are said to have hurled stones from an automobile through windows of three chain restaurants and then "bombarded" the Northern and Ingleside police stations.

The fugitive car was sighted by two San Francisco officers and trailed to the Bijou Tavern in Daly City, where the men were apprehended.

The alleged rock throwers, according to officers, declared they staged the demonstration because they resented the attitude of police during the recent maritime strike.

Booked at Daly City police headquarters and later taken to San Francisco, the men, Martin Wormuth, 32; Edward Grant, 32; Richard O'Connor, 30; William McRobbie, 31, and Edward Murphy, 31, were suspended from their jobs pending an investigation of the charges.

THEATER GROUP IS PRESENTING CLASSIC SATIRE

Modern Parody on Greek Myth Begins at Alcazar; Wins Popular Support

Men are relegated to household duties and women conduct the affairs of a warlike state in "The Warrior's Husband," brilliant and highly humorous comedy by Julian Thompson, that opened at the Alcazar Theater, Wednesday evening, October 20. The play is a travesty on ancient Greek mythology. It reverses the traditional roles of the sexes, yet makes a sizable horde of Amazons triumphantly charming.

The play is based largely on the mythical ninth labor of Hercules, which, as you may recall, was the recovery of Diana's girdle. The girdle, mythology tells us, was inherited by a queen of the Amazons and possessed the power of making its owners the dominant sex. Its loss provides one of the high situations of the comedy, situations that put the audience into kinks of mirth. The story involves: Hippolyta, queen of the Amazons (Beatrice Newport); Antiope, (Ann Pendleton); Sapiens (Barney Brown); Homer (Robert Clarke); Theseus (Max West); Pomposia, wealthy munitions making matron (Ruth Saville); Hercules (David Cole); Heroica (Marta Golden); Gaganus (Solly Carter); Geraldine Allan, Kay Pickering, Marie Bell and many others of equal merit.

"The Warrior's Husband" is the first of the new series of plays to be produced by the Federal Theater Project in pursuance of its new policy of presenting "shows the public demands." An excellent start has been made, if the first night audience is any criterion. The theater as usual was packed to the last row in the gallery and reservations are reported from practically every county in northern California.

BRANCH 49 IS HOST TO PUBLIC IN I C F INAUGURATION FIESTA HERE—SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Queen of the Italian Catholic Federation Inauguration Festival—tomorrow and Sunday—is lovely Margaret Della Selva, who will be crowned by Mayor Paul G. Selmi at the coronation dance at 9 o'clock Saturday evening, in the Theater Social Hall.

More than an empty title, the name "Her Majesty" will serve, in effect, as a symbol of the confirmation of the St. Massimo Branch No. 49 into the Italian Catholic Federation.

The presence of Queen Margaret is a harbinger of the central event on the festival program, the formal inauguration of the Daly City Unit at the close of the big parade, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at Jefferson Union High School, when I. C. F. Grand President Attilio Raeta presents the charter.

Speaker of the day will be Reynald Bianchi, assistant city attorney of San Francisco. Other notables, taking part in the ceremonies, will include Rev. James B. Doyle, who will bless the banners of Branch No. 49, and Rev. James B. Sorasio, who will give the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

More than 70 local and out of town organizations will be represented by floats, drum corps and drill teams in the Sunday parade, which will start from the county line (Huron street) at 2 o'clock and proceed on banner draped Mission street to Jefferson Union High School.

Two switchmen found the body of Paul Woods, 32, of 3837 Twenty-sixth street, San Francisco, in a lot at the foot of Hillcrest drive, west of the railroad tracks, Monday morning of this week at 8 o'clock. The switchmen, Jesus Mata, 400 Visitation avenue, and Basilio Pelligrini, 272 Delano street, notified Chief of Police James G. Reardon, who relayed the word to the coroner.

Near the body was found a 410 gauge shot gun and a box of shells. A gaping wound in the groin led to the belief that Woods was a suicide.

His widow resides at 84 Cayuga avenue in San Francisco. The couple had been estranged.

Woods was employed at the Pacific Foundry in San Francisco. An inquest is pending.

STRANGLED AS CAR OVERTURNS

Strangulation under an overturned car near Half Moon Bay, ended the life of a San Franciscan, last Sunday evening.

The dead man was Louis Marraccini, 40, of 427 1/2 Paris street.

Rouiding a curve in the highway five miles north of the coast town, the car went out of control and struck a concrete bridge abutment, overturning at the culvert. Marraccini, riding on the right side of the car, was partially thrown out as the car went over, only to have the machine come to rest on its side with the victim caught in the door, his head protruding and his body inside.

His two companions—Val Paoletti, 44, of 933 Delores street, driver, and Guilio Reani, 33, of 321 Pierce street—were able to crawl out, but they could not extricate Marraccini, who quickly expired.

YANK LAZZERI TO MANAGE CUBS?

TONI LAZZERI

Toni Lazzeri, New York Yankee hero of the 1937 World Series, is being discussed as possible manager for the Chicago Cubs in 1938. That the Cub berth is open for Lazzeri was hinted when friends of Lazzeri in California publicly intimated that the National League club was seeking to get in touch with Toni at his Millbrae, Calif., home. Lazzeri was non-committal about it all and declined to discuss his future major league activities.

MOVE IS MADE TO BRING BASE TO WEST BAY

Chamber of Commerce Leads To Consider Naval Site Campaign Plans Today

A united drive by residents and business men to bring the proposed $15,000,000 naval supply base to San Mateo and San Francisco Counties is under way.

Direct action on the project will be mapped at a luncheon at 12:15 o'clock today at Jackson's restaurant, 1465 Burlingame avenue, Burlingame, sponsored by the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce.

Chambers of commerce of nearly all San Mateo County cities are to be represented at the meeting.

Proposed site for the base on the Peninsula is between Hunter's Point and Chandelstick Point. This site would lie partially in San Mateo County and partially in San Francisco County.

Campaigners give as their central argument for the base on the San Mateo side of the Bay the easy availability of the drinking and domestic water supplies. The source of water in this region is in the Hetch Hetchy, the water originating from the snow capped Sierra.

Another advantage seen by interested parties is the immediacy of the proposed site to anchorage locations of the fleet.

POPULAR SERIES WILL CONTINUE ANOTHER WEEK

Time on Coward Play Cycle Is Extended As Program Draws Big Attendance

The popularity of the Noel Coward cycle of nine short plays now at the Curran, San Francisco, has proved so great a public draw that the management has been forced to extend the run an extra week to begin Monday night, October 25. The repertoire for this extra week is as follows: Monday and Tuesday nights, October 25 and 26, "Family Album," "Still Life" and "Hands Across the Sea"; Wednesday matinee and night, October 27, and Thursday night, October 28, "Ways and Means," "Fumed Oak" and "Shadow Play"; Friday night, October 29, "We Were Dancing," "The Astonished Heart" and "Red Pepper," and the special request program announced for Saturday matinee and night, October 30, "Red Peppers," "Fumed Oak" and "Hands Across the Sea." It is further announced that extension of the engagement beyond Saturday night, October 30, will be impossible due to booking arrangements that will carry the company across the continent.

The cast, headed by Estelle Winwood, Bramwell Fletcher, Helen Chandler, and Jessie Royce Landis, is superb, so good, in fact, that it could be called an all-star cast.

The plays that are being offered during the week of October 18 are: "We Were Dancing," a comedy of love in two scenes; "The Astonished Heart," a melodrama in six scenes, and the vaudeville satire with music, "Red Peppers." Playgoers will have their first opportunity of seeing Miss Landis, who was brought from New York to play in "Red Peppers" opposite Bramwell Fletcher. Miss Royce is one of the leading stars of the New York stage and has also appeared in the Coward cycle with Noel Coward himself, during the run in New York. During the week of October 18, Miss Mary Astor will be seen as guest artist.

After the instruction tour was completed, refreshments were served to the entire group.

An unusual program was presented to the Woodrow Wilson P. T. A. under the direction of Miss Varni, sixth grade teacher of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School. Albert McIntire and Eugenia Goodwin. A comprehensive talk on spelling was presented by Gwendolyn Stegman, while Helen Oxley gave interesting facts on the social science activity in Egypt. By means of diagrams of the eye drawn by Roy DeVincenzi, Albert Pictorina and Bernard Janssen, and explained by Alan Rigler, an understanding of perfect vision as compared to defective vision was brought to the parents.

Members of the P. T. A. left the meeting well informed and satisfied that modern educational methods employed in the school today are far more interesting and practical than those used in their own childhood days.

MILE EVENT IS IDEAL FOR YOUNG GALLOPERS

By J. W. MARCHBANK

The Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes, at one mile, the feature of the fall meeting at Churchill Downs, has attracted nearly all of the leading two year olds of the country. The estimated value of the race is $15,000, a substantial amount, at any man's track.

As has often been pointed out, the Louisville event gives trainers a better line on their colts than the Belmont Park, or Arlington Park, or any of the earlier stakes for two year olds, as it is at a real testing distance—eight furlongs.

About the same lineup is expected as in the recent Belmont Park struggle in which H. P. Headley's Menow proved to be the victor. How the added distance will affect the Pharamond II youngster is problematical. Some observers declare Menow is too broad back of the saddle to stay, while others see no reason for the colt turning out to be a non-stayer, at least for such a route as a mile.

The Kentucky race is the same distance as the Tanforan Futurity, to be run for the first time at the fall meeting at Tanforan next year. Gratifying response was received to the call for nominations for the Tanforan baby encounter when blanks were sent out last year. Even more encouraging was the fact that a large number of nominators kept their colts in the race when time rolled around for the second payment on the subscriptions.

It is pleasing to think James Rolph III has secured control of the stallion War Glory, a son of Man o' War, to stand at his Redwood City nursery in our own county. War Glory could run both fast and far, is an upstanding individual, and of fashionable strains.

Progeny of the "new" sire are likely to be seen under colors in the Tanforan Futurity in 1941, as his owner is always on the alert to give his gallopers all the opportunities possible, especially near home.

a shower bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Emma Firpo and the bridesmaid was Mrs. Mary Pierazzi, sister of the bride. They were gowned alike in peach taffeta and carried talisman roses.

August Pierazzi was the best man and Joseph Firpo acted as usher.

A dinner at the Colonial Cafe on Mission street followed the ceremony. Dancing was enjoyed till midnight.

After a honeymoon, spent at Lake Tahoe, Mr. and Mrs. Firpo will reside in San Francisco.

Organize Club

The Night Hawk Club was organized and had the first meeting, Tuesday evening of this week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Shaughnessy on Brunswick street.

After the business meeting a delightful evening of cards and refreshments were enjoyed by the following members: Mr. and Mrs. A. Silvanes, Mr. and Mrs. F. Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. G. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hermosillo, Mr. and Mrs. R. Jacona and Sol Kaiawe.

Viewpoint Of Our Northern Neighbor

The following pungent editorial is gleaned from one of the ablest newspapers published within the boundaries of our northern neighbor—Canada. The article is captioned "A Judicial Comedy."

"Justice Hugo L. Black of the United States Supreme Court appears to be confirmed in his judicial position by the dismissal by his brother justices of applications to unseat him.

"To those accustomed to the Canadian judicial view, no other eventuality was possible. Indeed, from our standpoint, the entire effort to blacken his record savors of a graceless comedy foredoomed to failure from the start.

"For, in our comprehension, the actual ability or personality of a judge is secondary to the dignity and authority of the post itself.

"Strangely enough, we are not entirely familiar with cases in our own country in which lawyers of no great brilliance or achievement have been appointed to the bench and have acquitted themselves with considerable success simply because the high responsibility and unbroken traditions of our judiciary have sustained them beyond their own personal powers.

"We have learned, through centuries of experience, that a mediocre man, possessed of unchallenged dignity and backed by an unquestioned tradition, will frequently do a better job than a superior man upon whom circumstances have conferred no dignity and who has no background of tradition to guide his course.

"The Republican fight to unseat Justice Black will do no harm to the appointee himself. Should it succeed, it may work incalculable harm to the American bench in establishing the fact that the American judiciary holds office at the whim and pleasure of political intriguers."

Mateans to Invade Modesto Gridiron

A special train will carry the San Mateo Junior College rooters, their uniformed band and the 65 pound English bulldog mascot to the conference football game at Modesto Junior College this, Friday, evening. The game is the first league tilt for the Mateans.

San Mateo has a strong record for the season to date, having won three games and lost a close 7-4 decision to the powerful California freshmen. The trainload of rooters will have a car for dancing to aid in enjoying their valley trip.

California Junior College Association when 300 faculty members met for the fall convention at the University of California, Berkeley.

ENEMIES SEE GOOD IN SWING OF PENDULUM

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

Even professors trying to argue against the New Deal have to admit the Old Deal was a terrible thing. Not so long ago one of the learned men in criticizing President Roosevelt's procedure in saving the country from ruin four years ago delivered himself of the following words:

"Even the most thorough-going reactionaries must admit that the Old Deal had many shortcomings. Under its regime, the recent depression—the most severe in the nation's history—was born and grew rapidly to elephantine proportions. As yet, the New Deal has not been guilty of producing a like monstrosity."

A left-handed compliment, but still an admission there must be something good in the New Deal.

"Big Business" is generally held by liberals to have been responsible for the depression for its failure to modify its racketeering brand of selfishness. So some in the camp of the broad-minded observers of the modern trend are not certain President Roosevelt is on the right track in placing emphasis on the place of lawyers in our economy. Their point is that the men of the briefs are only tools of the business interests. One astute commentator says it is a truism on Wall Street that at one time lawyers had clients, but now a days corporations have lawyers.

Liberals have long suspected that the law is a reactionary profession and since the set-to of some of its leading exponents with the chief executive the suspicion has grown deeper. The latest move is the creation by the American Bar Association of a public relations committee to interpret the legal profession to the public.

On account of the ever expanding popularity of the President the lawyers will have a hard time proving to the people his New Deal is a mistake or that he is attempting to build up a bureaucracy closely akin to dictatorship.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University has come forward with instruction and education as vital for the abolition of war. In a recent address he said:

"It is a fallacy that if war be denounced and protested against it can be prevented.

"Nothing could be further from the truth. The emotional basis upon which this sort of conduct rests is precisely the emotional basis upon which zest and zeal for war can be built in short order when circumstances invite to that end.

"The one sure way to keep out of war is to prevent war. The only possible way to prevent war is to build up those institutions which can take the place of war in settling international differences and disputes. This means the substitution of judicial processes for appeal to armed force and it means the establishment, throughout the world, of collective security in case of violation of the laws of morals and the rules of international law by any government in the world.

"These fundamental principles must be taught to the young people of this land and of every land."

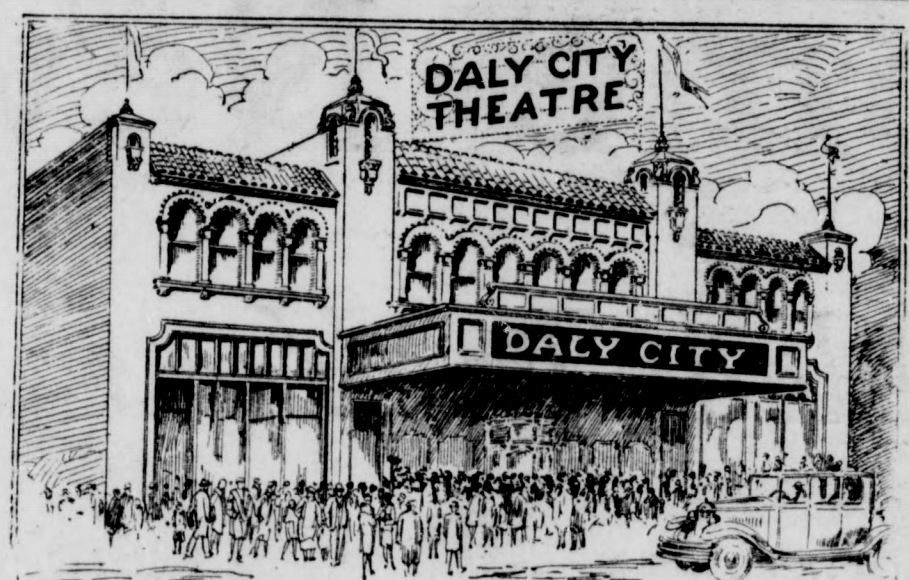

Many people interested in dictatorships and their meaning, without for a moment believing in such undemocratic institutions, are reading Maurice Ashley's biography of Oliver Cromwell. The "conservative dictator" was doomed to failure because he had achieved power by force and was compelled to maintain it by force. The story is told that when Cromwell dismissed his last Parliament he swept aside the interposition of his son in law with the words: "You are a milksop. By the living God, I must and shall dissolve them."

The Golden Text will be: "He that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved" (Matt. 24: 13). Bible selections will include the following passage from Philippians 2: 12, 13: "Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "Work out your own salvation, is the demand of Life and Love, for to this end God worketh with you. REFRIGERATOR ROLLS AND VARIATIONS

- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 cakes compressed yeast
- 1 cup cold water
- 6 cups unsifted flour

Pour boiling water over shortening, sugar and salt. Blend and cool. Add eggs. Let yeast stand in cold water for 5 minutes, then stir and add to mixture. Add flour. Blend well, cover and place in refrigerator for at least 4 hours. Dough must be in large mixing bowl, as it rises slightly in the refrigerator. It will keep a week to ten days and may be used as needed.

About 3 hours before using rolls work into desired shapes, using enough extra flour to make them easy to handle; then place in greased pans and allow them to rise in room of ordinary temperature for about 2 hours or more until they are double original size. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) for 12 to 15 minutes. If harder crust is desired, bake in moderate oven (350-375 degrees) 20 minutes. Brush rolls with milk or egg white before baking if a sleek crust is wanted or rub with melted butter after baking if buttery look and taste are preferred.

This is a basic recipe. From this the following variations may be made:

Broad Sticks

With the hands, form long, very thin sticks. Let rise and bake in the usual manner. These are good with salads or soups.

Pecan Rolls

Butter, molasses, corn syrup or honey, pecans, cinnamon.

Roll out a sheet of dough. Dot generously with pecans and butter. Sprinkle with cinnamon and roll. Cut off slices and place close together on a pan with a half inch of molasses, corn syrup or honey.

Cocktail Rolls

Chutney, anchovy paste, mustard or cheese.

Roll out a sheet of dough and spread with any of the above ingredients. Roll whole mass like jelly roll. Cut off inch-thick slices, and place them touching each other on a greased pan. Let rise and bake in usual way.

Whole Wheat Rolls

Substitute 3 cups whole wheat flour for white flour.

Fruit Rolls

Two cups ground raisins, figs, currants, dates, nuts or any of these in combination added to plain white, whole wheat make delicious rolls.

Cheese Rolls

Add 2 cups grated cheese to flour or work in a part of it with a part of the dough if the whole batch is not to be flavored with the cheese.

Toasted Oats

Toast ordinary rolled oats in oven until brown and add to basic dough.

Grape Nuts

Add 2 cups grape nuts to basic recipe.

OBSERVATION OF VARIOUS THINGS IN OUR CAPITAL

Correspondent Declares That Span Of Existence Of Mankind Is Surprisingly Limited

(By Hart Goodrich)

Many serious thinkers at the present time seem to feel that the human race with its civilization, we now know, is balancing on the brink of world wide self destruction in the form of modern warfare. All of us shudder at the thought that this world of ours might perish. Men have lived such a little while. Most students will agree that mankind can only measure his civilized living scarcely more than 5000 years, a mere scratch in the history of living things on this old Mother Earth. The vast majority of animal and plant forms that have existed on the earth have long been extinct.

In the Natural History Building of the Smithsonian Institution here in Washington is a case 120 feet long in which is shown a panorama of life from the earliest ages to the present time. It is startling to note that the epoch of human existence is so comparatively brief as to occupy only the last foot of this exhibit. Few species dating from farther back than the beginning of the day of man are now living.

In this museum are exhibited the most perfect fossil creatures ever found. This group contains fossilized remains of animals which lived at least 100,000,000 years ago. Near them we see some "youngsters" in the march of time, a giant spined reptile found in Texas one of the many Smithsonian expeditions. He must have been quite formidable, as he had tall spines on his back and powerful jaws, which could not have devoured one of our ancestors, as the creature lived 15,000,000 years ago, while we humans can only trace our remote ancestors back approximately a mere 100,000 years.

Then, only three or four million years ago the giant dinosaur walked on this earth, spreading terror in the ranks of the smaller animals.

However, the most significant thing about all of these early creatures is their very small heads and brains compared to their immense bodies.

But turning back from this digression into the remote past, let us ask

ILLEGAL ACT TO PASS OTHER CAR ON THE RIGHT

Motorists who pass to the right of another car moving in the same direction on a highway violate the law, but the frequency of the offense indicates that many drivers are unaware that such passing is illegal. Under only one condition is passing on the right on a highway permissible by law. That is when the car ahead is making a left turn or has signalled intention to do so. With this exception, passing on the right is legal only on city streets wide enough for the movement of two lanes of traffic in each direction.

Motorists are also required by law to pull over to the right and allow an overtaking car to pass on being signalled by the sound of a horn or other audible warning. Even though a motorist may be driving at the legal maximum speed, he must give way to the overtaking car.

On three lane highways the car first to move into the center lane for the purpose of passing has the right of way over another car subsequently entering the center lane from the opposite direction, but must return to the right hand lane after passing.

An important safety rule is that of keeping to the right as far as is reasonably possible at all times because failure to do so tends to nullify the margin of safety as well as the traffic capacity of wide, modern highways with their plainly marked traffic lanes.

For Touchdown

Tired of being the stepping stone for other teams, the Jefferson Indians, last Saturday, came into their own to completely overwhelm the Palo Alto Vikings on their own field, 13-0. Palo Alto got their only chance to score in the first quarter when they reached the Jefferson ten yard line only to be stalemated.

Jefferson opened the second quarter by starting a drive which ended in a touchdown pass from Roy Wilson to Bob Clarke. Palo Alto came back with a passing attack which reached the Jefferson twenty yard line, but the gun sounded to end the first half with Jefferson leading 6-0.

In the second half Jefferson showed a slight edge in defensive strength. The thrilling moment of the game was Campagno's interception of a Palo Alto pass and his run of 65 yards to a touchdown. McCune then dropkicked for the conversion to put the game practically on ice for Jefferson. The return of Simpson, Olson and Balletto to the team gave Jefferson its whole first string for the first time since the Balboa game at the start of the season.

Eldrup played the outstanding game of the day, tackling hard and getting in on almost all of the plays. In the backfield Balletto, Simpson and Campagno all played brilliantly. Art Wright called a very good game as well as making many good blocks and tackles.

McCune and Clarke played their usual heads up football at end positions for the Indians.

HURRICANE WILL BEGIN AT GEARY AUXILIARY HAS REGULAR MEET

The first picture of road show proportions selected by the Geary Theater management for presentation this year is Samuel Goldwyn's "$1,500,000 production, 'Hurricane.'"

From all reports, no picture released this year compares in striking massiveness to "Hurricane," which will be simultaneously at the Astor Theater, New York, and the Geary Theater, San Francisco, a few weeks hence.

A cast of unusual proportions, headed by Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall, will be seen in the production.

Police Demoralized By Cross Current Calls For Snacks

The police of Racine, Wis., have sent in a complaint to the effect that the Alameda police radio came in on their wave band and most of the Bay town's calls were for sandwiches.

These calls, they affirm, make the men on their own force hungry.

Officers Discovers "How It Feels" To Have Auto Stolen

One of State Highway Patrolman John Hanlon's duties is to run down culprits who steal other people's cars. Early this week his own car was stolen in South San Francisco.

And now the officer is enthusiastically searching for the thieves who "took themselves for a ride" in his new automobile, parked it in a lonely road behind Tanforan Race-track and stripped it of five tires, radio and water heater.

RESPIRATOR IS INSTALLED HERE

An artificial respirator, popularly termed "iron lung," was installed this week in the Villa Hospital.

Purchased by Manager Joseph Sarto for the benefit of Daly City, the unit will be used to treat subjects stricken with diphtheric paralysis, electric shock, alcoholic coma, carbon monoxide poisoning, drowning and other dangerous maladies.

Of the iron lung, Sarto says, "Every community should have one to take care of its emergencies."

A special meeting has been called for 10 o'clock, Sunday morning, at the hospital when members of the Daly City Fire Department will be instructed in the art of managing the new device. All local firemen are urged to attend the session.

Safety In Passing Urged On Motorists

Do you impatiently try to pass another car "right now" or do you sensibly wait for a really safe chance to pass?

This question is put by the Public Safety Department of the California State Automobile Association in a

Big Prizes At KQW

Radio station KQW in San Jose is offering a contest for potential Graham McNamees in the form of radio announcing tryouts. Running for ten weeks, the competition has been opened to the San Jose State College student body. Participants are required to give commercial announcements, news, read poetry and "ad lib" for one minute from a situation built up for them.

The program will run every Thursday for a half hour, beginning at 7:30, at the studio of KQW on San Antonio street in San Jose. Auditions will be held the previous day at 8 at the studios.

Prizes will be awarded to the winner of each weekly contest. The ten winners will then enter the semi-finals, with the eventual winner taking $50; second place, $15; and third place, $5.

statement today discussing the dangers of improper passing.

"The impatient driver who swings out suddenly, then cuts back in, possibly forcing another off the road or at least causing a bad scare, shows himself to be childish, unthinking, a poor citizen and a menace to the motoring public," the statement said.

"One of the reasons why so many accidents are the result of improper passing is that impatient drivers overestimate the time saved by passing right now instead of waiting for a safe opportunity. Usually the time saved is so slight that if motorists stopped to think they would never risk a serious accident for so insignificant a gain."

A series of suggestions is offered, based on the State Motor Vehicle Code, as follows:

"I will give the car I am passing plenty of side clearance and will not cut back into its lane until I am well out in front."

"I will drive on the left side of the road in passing only when the road is clear far enough ahead so I can get back on the right side before coming within 100 feet of any approaching car."

"I positively will not pass on blind curves or hill crests."

"I will pass on the right only on city streets, not on highways, unless the car ahead is making a left turn."

"I will not race. I will give way when the driver behind indicates a wish to pass."

Tire chains are occasionally desirable on front wheels as well as rear, but it should be recognized that chains can not be safely used on front wheels of some knee action models.

This is because of close proximity to the knee action mechanism.

MANAGER LOOKS OVER '38 MODEL

Last week, the manager of Mission Auto Company, Chrysler-Plymouth dealer here, visited San Francisco to attend an impressive all-day meeting held by top ranking Chrysler Corporation executives, who had journeyed from Detroit for the occasion.

The meeting was devoted to the presentation of the new 1938 Chrysler and Plymouth models, and was attended by more than 325 distributors, dealers and salesmen from the various communities of northern California.

Commenting on the cars he said: "After viewing these new Chryslers and Plymouths, and becoming familiar with the intensive sales and advertising plans for the coming year, I am thoroughly convinced that we will again establish another new record during 1938. Sales during the past model year have been virtually double those of 1936 and with the host of new improvements, new style and new performance, our 1938 Chryslers and Plymouths are destined to receive a highly enthusiastic reception from motorists in Daly City."

"As in the past," newspapers will form the backbone of advertising during the coming year. Because of its intensive coverage of the community and the confidence reposed in it by the readers, we have found the local newspaper one of the most resultful methods of placing our message before prospective purchasers."

Announcement was made that the new models are now on display in the Mission Auto Company showrooms, located at 6465 Mission street.
